

NATURE WALKS

These are contemplative and nurturing, introducing mindfulness. Walking in silence with the stillness and tranquility of nature, at some point, becomes a meditative experience. You may be taken to a waterfall or a lake side to become one with the elements or to a meditation hall in a temple for the enquiry of “who am I” or to a crematorium to contemplate on death.